Craigendinnie Beat

Craigendinnie Beat

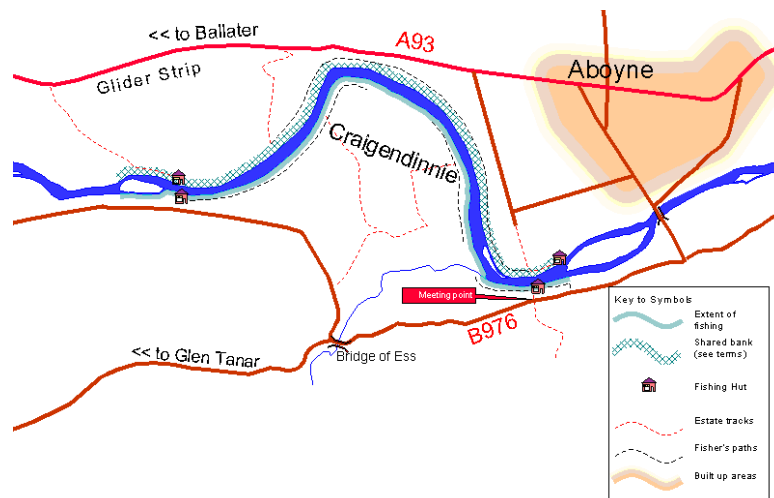

Both banks from top of Jockie Fye Pool downstream to the foot of the Lorne Pool for Spring fishing. In Summer fishing, south bank only.

The beat has 3.6 kilometres (2.2 miles) of fly-fishing, with 17 named pools on the south side of the Dee. There is a bank sharing agreement with the Aboyne Castle beat opposite, that allows fishers to enjoy both banks. This arrangement ceases at the end of June when the Craigendinnie rods remain on the south bank during the summer months.

The beat has two main fishing periods Spring and Summer. The Spring period, from 1 March to 3 July, four rods fish the beat, two each from Craigendinnie and Aboyne Castle. In the Summer, from 5 July to 30 September, two rods fish the beat from the Craigendinnie (south) side.

Access to the beat is by car along tracks to most of the beat. There are also paths along the riverside on both banks that allows access to all parts of the beat on foot. Aboyne Bridge is the main point crossing between banks and is at the bottom of the beat.

The beat has fly fishing only and a complete catch and release policy.
